Dedication

This edited Book of Readings is dedicated to the celebration of Lead City University at twenty.

Acknowledgements

First and foremost, we appreciate the Almighty God for allowing this Book of Readings to become a reality. Our sincere appreciation to Professors and other faculty members involved in this book project, especially for their goodwill, advice and varying degrees of support. May the Lord continue to bless you all.

Furthermore, the time and financial contributions of faculty members and mentees, (in the Department of Economics, Management & Accounting, Politics & international Relations and Behavioural Sciences), with articles in this Book of Readings is highly commendable. Your financial commitment, dedication and timely submission of manuscripts cannot be overemphasized.

Our prayer is that the good Lord will continue to honour you all.

Foreword

Faculty of Management and Social Sciences is the first and largest Faculty in Lead City University. It was established immediately after the University was licensed for take-off in 2005. the programs introduced right from inception were demand-driven. This Book of Readings is, erefore, a unique contribution of the research outputs of some scholars and mentees in the faculty commemoration of the celebration of this great citadel of learning at twenty.

To this end, scholars have put their thoughts together from the Economic, Management and Accounting, Politics and International Relations and Behavioural Sciences' perspectives on contemporary issues in Nigeria. There is no doubt that the research outputs and thoughts of faculty members in this Book of Readings is a remarkable and robust contribution to knowledge.

About the Book of Readings

This edited book titled "Two Decades of Lead City University, Ibadan (Management and Social Sciences Perspectives on Contemporary Issues in Nigeria)" represents the research outputs of over forty-five seasoned, experienced scholars and mentees, in the Departments of Economics, Management and Accounting, Politics and International Relations, and Behavioural Sciences. The twenty-two articles in this book adopted diverse methodologies to address contemporary issues in Nigeria through a multidisciplinary approach from the Management and Social Sciences perspective.

Policy recommendations for a better future for the Nigerian government were suggested by the various authors. Professors Kabiru Aderemi Adeyemo, Omolara Campbell and Associate Professor Omoseni Adepoju are the seasoned academics of repute that painstakingly took time to edit this book, thus making it suitable for teachers, lecturers and researchers to benefit from, in one way or the other.

Without doubt, the varying submissions of researchers in the Book of Readings will enrich the knowledge of lecturers and students in institutions of higher learning all over Nigeria and beyond.
