Acknowledgement

I would not have been able to attain this feat without the grace of the Almighty God who has brought me this far in my academic endeavor. To God alone, the ultimate glory is due.

Importantly, I am grateful to all institutions and scholars whose previous scholarly works were used and duly cited in this research. I shall not forget the opportunity afforded to me by the very rich Lead City University Law Library for providing most of the materials used in this study, I am also grateful to the operators of Researchgate online academic for all the useful materials contained.

It is important to state here that the scholarly relevance which this work will exhibit would not have been possible without the much needed guidance of a scholar per excellence, Prof. Kolapo Omidire who supervised this work meticulously. I thank the management and council of Lead City University who were thoughtful enough to build this fountain of knowledge. The Provost, School of Postgraduate Studies, Prof. Afolakemi Oredein is a pillar on which this degree stands, I shall be forever grateful to the Dean, Faculty of Law, Dr. Oluyemisi Abimbola who at all times, dedicated her life to impact knowledge. I am grateful to all lecturers of the Faculty who participated in shaping and making me better.

I appreciate all family members, relatives, classmates and associates who have contributed in numerous ways to the facilitation of this research. Importantly, I acknowledge the family atmosphere afforded to me by my lovely wife and children, Esther, Divine and Flourish respectively. I could not have actualized this noble dream without your cooperation, I shall be grateful to you. I also appreciate the contributions of Dapo Durosaro Esq., principal partner, Golden Gate Chambers, Ibadan.

Even though, the above-mentioned institutions and people assisted in the process of this work, I alone stand responsible for the errors, if any, found in the work.
